

Grady-White Canyon 306

This revamped version of Grady-White's popular 30-foot center console features many innovations and improvements, like a new T-top with radio box, rod holders, radial-mounted riggers, storage netting, spreader lights, and a full-height windshield made from material used in military helicopters. The new 306 console boasts a stand-up enclosure with a head, shower, sink and storage. A multipurpose module aft of the companion seat incorporates a rigging station with a sink, tackle and rod storage, plus a 47-gallon lighted livewell with blue interior and a viewing window. Additional upgrades include increased fuel capacity and an upsized fish box.
