Each year Boating Industry, a well-known marine industry trade publication, selects fifty new or updated marine products and services for inclusion in their Top Products list. This year, Grady-White's Canyon 326 has been recognized.

"With over 175 well-qualified submissions from manufacturers across every segment of the industry for consideration, selecting 50 top products was no easy task," noted the Boating Industry editorial team. "These products stood out from the rest of the pack for their impact on the industry, innovations, and how they advance the product category—or create a new segment all together."

A spacious well-appointed center console, the Canyon 326, made its debut as a new Grady-White boat for the 2020 model year. With its sleek sporty appearance and all the luxuries and amenities expected in a Grady-White, this new thirty-two-foot center console is packed with standard equipment that enhances fishability while still maintaining the comforts that make it an outstanding family boat.

All on Grady's SeaV2® hull, the 326 incorporates Grady-White's integrated, full-height, scratch resistant windshield for expansive visibility and a clean profile, and the expanded beam sits the helm on center with three deluxe contoured Captain's chairs. Backed by Grady's exceptional attention to detail and unmatched customer satisfaction, this boat will exceed your expectations.

Founded in 1959, Grady-White Boats builds twenty-eight models from eighteen to forty-five feet at its 500,000-square-foot facility in Greenville, North Carolina. They've been awarded the National Marine Manufacturers Association Customer Satisfaction Index award for eighteen years, and were awarded Highest Ranked in Customer Satisfaction in the Coastal Fishing Boats segment by J.D. Power and Associates for nine years.

"With its innovative design and numerous features, the Canyon 326 was designed to fill a specific niche in Grady's model line up," says Shelley Tubaugh, Vice President of Marketing at Grady-White Boats. "The 326 possesses all the style and comfort Grady is known for with a large array of options that make it the perfect boat for a fishing family or a current 306 owner that's ready for an upgrade. We are pleased and honored that Boating Industry's Top Products has recognized the Canyon 326."
