FREEDOM 307

With the introduction of the Freedom 307, Grady-White Boats now offers a complete line of dual console, multi-purpose boats from 20-33 feet. This boat is a great fit for those with a wide range of water activity interests.

The Freedom 307 includes a roomy head area superior to those aboard many open inland cruisers, along with spacious seating room found on an open family boat. The vessel delivers reliability, safety and performance.

For a smooth ride, Grady-White developed the Sea V[®] hull. As a result, boat length for boat length, the Grady-White Freedom 307's ride is superb.

In response to customers' requests for a safe and secure boat no matter what the conditions, the manufacturer sprayed enough flotation foam into the hull to keep the boat from sinking in any emergency. It is unsinkable!

Storage aboard the Freedom 307 is plentiful. There's bulk storage under the bow seating, while the starboard console offers a storage drawer and bulk storage area. The head area has storage racks that run underneath the bow seating, plus storage nets, drawers and bulk storage areas.

This model is at home on a family fishing trip or a cruise. For fishing, she boasts a 251-quart insulated fish box and an additional 150-quart storage box under the bow seating on the starboard side. An optional 32-gallon livewell features a full column water distribution inlet and an 1,100 GPH pump. There are rod holders and rod racks, storage for all kinds of tackle, and plenty of room at the helm for all of the navigation equipment and electronics an avid fisherman might require.

As a cruiser, the Freedom 307 is perfect for cruising with friends. Deluxe bench seats at the helm and companion areas are roomy enough for two. The bow area seating surrounds a removable table that can also be used in the cockpit area. A standard wet bar located behind the starboard helm seating includes a food and drink prep area, a 32-gallon capacity freshwater sink, a storage drawer and trash compartment. A deluxe wet bar option offers a grill under the countertop, plus a refrigerated drawer for food.

The cockpit has an electrically extendable port lounge seat aft of the companion seat, plus foldaway aft bench seating. There are cup holders at every seat and a standard stereo system with speakers.

On the transom, there's a recessed freshwater shower. The starboard side of the transom features a fiberglass door that provides access to a telescoping swim ladder. Like every Grady-White, the boat is self-bailing, meaning that all the boxes and decks drain overboard by force of gravity.
