

GRADY-WHITE 216 FISHERMAN

The Grady-White 216 Fisherman has an all new T-top.

On some boats the T-top seems like an afterthought, on others the top is well integrated into the boat, and on topnotch models various features are integrated into the top itself. But as T-top tech advances, existing boat models often get left in the dust. Not so with the Grady-White 216 Fisherman, a boat we reviewed years ago but which gets some new life thanks to a T-top redesign which Grady-White undertook for the 2022 model year. This wasn't just for the 216 Fisherman and the top is also used with the 236 and 257 Fishermen models, as well as the 251 Coastal Explorer. It's been designed to integrate with the console, and features full-height windshield enclosures, four rocket launchers, and painted aluminum frames. Plus, perks include LED spreader lights, tri-colored overhead lights, a stowage net, and grab rails. Visit Grady-White (<http://gradywhite.com>), or in Maryland, you'll want to visit Tri-State Marine (<http://tristatemarine.com>) (which, by the way, has a monster showroom with gobs of Grady-White models to check out; call 410/867-1447) for more information.